Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 12 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Unsettled with showers or longer periods of rain.

Today:
Dull and wet for the most part with showers or longer periods of rain, heavy at times, particularly across western hills. However gradually turning drier from northwest from mid-afternoon. Strong winds easing across central and northern areas for the afternoon.

Tonight:
Showery rain initially across east and south of country, gradually clearing from the west through the evening and night, leaving most with a dry and bright start to the weekend.

Saturday:
For most Saturday will be fine, dry and bright with light winds. However some patchy light rain may appear around east coasts early and the far west from evening.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunday mainly cloudy with patchy rain feeding from northwest, but little reaching eastern areas. Monday on balance mostly dry, bright, but also some patchy rain around. Tuesday brings blustery showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.